

DARWIN200

INVITATION

Conservation in Australia Evening at Sydney Opera House

November 18th, 2024

Experience an inspiring evening celebrating conservation in Australia including ground-breaking projects and presentations by leading young environmentalists.

DARWIN200 will host its “Conservation in Australia” evening at the iconic Sydney Opera House, celebrating the work of young environmentalists that have travelled from across the globe to work with many of Australia’s most inspiring conservation projects.

Each project will be showcased, covering a rainbow of Australia’s endangered wildlife, and each young environmentalist will give a presentation of their findings and debut a short film that delves deeper into their specific area of study, offering an intimate look at the challenges and triumphs of conservation in Australia.

The evening will also feature distinguished guest speakers: Chris Darwin (descendant of Charles Darwin), famed adventurer George Kourounis, National Geographic Explorer Emma Camp and coral biologist Dr. Jennifer Matthews.

Arrive at 5:00pm for welcome drinks and canapés in the Utzon Room, Sydney Opera House.
Start at 6:00pm. Proceedings close at 9:00pm.

Places Limited - RSVP essential - email joost@darwin200.com by November 14th, 2024.
